

A Future for Children

Unite for Education and Protect children

Our goal: education for all

Millions of children are affected by poverty and violent conflicts.

They suffer from preventable diseases. They are forced to leave their homes. They are exploited in slave labor. They are not allowed to go to school.

Thank you for helping us change this.

With your support, Childaid Network is able to provide children and youth who otherwise would have no prospect in life with a way to a good future.

❶ Quality education is still a luxury for most children. We work at many schools to introduce child centric teaching and joyful learning. (Assam, 2024)

❷ To give children joy, strengthen their rights and help them to develop well, these are our goals.

Education is the key to life

Our projects provide children and youth who otherwise do not go to school with access to education and vocational training.

Still, only one in five children in South Asia learns to read and do arithmetic properly. Together with our local partners, we have developed concepts to make a sustainable and structural change. We support government schools to succeed and to improve their teaching quality.

For more than 18 years: Sustainable engagement for underprivileged

In focus: refugees, street children, minorities

Our goal: All children obtain their rights, above all, access to good education.

We therefore focus especially on

- Help for exploited minorities in remote areas
- Child laborers without access to school and youth without formal training
- Care for street children in the slums
- Education for boys and girls growing up in refugee camps

Our projects help the poorest of the poor – independently of their origin, gender, religion, culture or nationality. The majority of students in our courses are girls and young women.

No charity but impetus for change

We regard our support as help for self-help.

Our projects complement government education programs – they do not replace them. We only support projects where the village elders and those affected contribute, because only then can these projects have a lasting effect.

We work with local partners to make sure that the state and civil society take responsibility so that we can make ourselves and our projects redundant.

It is my vocation to enable marginalized children to have a good future. For me, it is a great privilege to be able to dedicate so much of my time for this cause. I am excited by the progress – and thank the many people who participate.

As a member of the honorary Management Board, I take care of project controlling and the ongoing good cooperation in the team.

Sandra Hörbelt

I am committed to ensuring that disadvantaged children receive their right to a safe childhood and a good education. The progress of our children makes me happy; it shows me how effectively and sustainably your donations are being used.

As unsalaried board member for Finance, I consider it my responsibility that our cost structure remains slim, all criteria for our non-profit status are met and your donations reach the projects.

Michael Legeland

I find my work for Childaid Network very satisfying and meaningful: Humanitarian engagement is combined with professionalism for the benefit of disadvantaged children.

Economical • effective • transparent

For more than 18 years, our projects have brought change

We promote access to education for hundreds of thousands of disadvantaged children and young people.

In 2024, we directly reached more than 200,000 young people with our projects.

Tens of thousands of street and refugee children enter regular schools through our bridging courses.

We enabled more than 30,000 young people to catch up on their primary school education.

We are helping more than 1,600 government schools to improve their quality.

We support vocational training of tens of thousands young people.

We pay about 2,500 salaries for teachers and social workers.

30€

are enough to send a refugee child to school for a year

100€

per month is required to educate 40 – 50 youths in an evening school

150€

per month is sufficient to conduct a pre-school class with three professionals and to offer the children one healthy meal per day
